The richest values of wilderness lie not in the days of Daniel Boone, nor even in the present, but rather in the future. -Aldo Leopold, A Sand County Almanac (1949)

A wilderness, in contrast with those areas where man and his own works dominate the landscape, is hereby recognized as an area where the earth and its community of life are untrammeled by man, where man himself is a visitor who does not remain.

Wilderness Act of 1964
